

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Zutari provides engineering, management, specialist technical and advisory services for government and private sector clients globally. Zutari aims to systematically consider potential environmental consequences of its activities and pursue continual improvement in its daily operations. To achieve this aim it is Zutari's policy to apply and maintain an effective environmental management system complying with the requirements of ISO 14001:2026.

The objectives of our Environmental Management System are to:

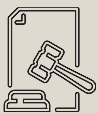

Identify, assess, mitigate and monitor environmental risks, aspects and impacts associated with our activities, products and services to minimise adverse environmental impacts and protect the organisation's reputation.

Establish, implement and review measurable environmental objectives and targets to support continual improvement of environmental performance and the effectiveness of the Environmental Management System.

Prevent pollution, reduce greenhouse gas emissions and minimise waste, energy consumption, water usage and the use of other resources through responsible operational practices. Where applicable for our office operations or our projects, we are committed to protecting biodiversity, protect ecosystems and other environmental matters arising out of the specific operational or project context.

Fulfil applicable legal, regulatory, client and other compliance obligations by integrating environmental considerations and lifecycle thinking into all phases of project planning and delivery.

Promote environmental awareness, accountability and competence among employees and relevant interested parties through training, communication and collaboration to support sustainable business practices and continual improvement.

We recognize that this policy requires a clear commitment by management to the application, regular review and continual improvement of the environmental management system and an appreciation by our staff and partners working under our control that adherence to the system is everyone's business. This policy is reviewed and, where appropriate updated, annually and is available to interested parties via Zutari's website.
